

Lonely People—

Living is a world of busy people,
They look you in the eye and read your mind.
And even if they say they are concerned for you,
No one ever wants to take the time.
No one wants to listen to the broken,
Therefore you camouflage your misery.
Jesus sees right through the face your wearing;
He wants to hold you tenderly.

Chorus: Lonely people, Jesus loves you;
No matter what your feeling now, you are not alone,
Lonely people, Jesus loves you,
Come let my Father show you how His love can be your home.

No matter where you look for satisfaction;
No matter what you've found or who you've known;
You always end up feeling lost and empty;
No one ever wants to hold you long.
Oh, but I know One who's longing to embrace you,
And hold you through all eternity.
What a wondrous Friend I've found in Jesus;
I know because right now He's holding me.

Chorus: Lonely people, Jesus loves you;
No matter what your feeling now, you are not alone,
Lonely people, Jesus loves you,
Come let my Father show you how His love can be your home.
