

Serenaded by Angels

By Kirk Talley

She went to sleep one night never here to awake again,
But everything was alright between her and Him,
So she awoke in heaven's courtyard free from pain within,
The angels gathered round her and they took her by the hand.

Chorus: Serenaded by angels up to the throne,
Serenaded by angels, finally at home
Surrounded by praises to the King,
Welcome to Paradise, the angels will sing.

Now I close my eyes at night, and I try to imagine,
That city of brilliant light waiting for me,
Oh, But my mind cannot conceive, so I'll continue to dream,
Until I'm transported there, then I will be,

Chorus: Serenaded by angels up to the throne,
Serenaded by angels, finally at home
Surrounded by praises to the King,
Welcome to Paradise, the angels will sing.
